

"There are masters among you.
Scattered throughout the continents to shine their lights as brightly as possible, simply by being themselves, living mostly
'ordinary' lives.
Until, with enough of them walking the earth, a tipping point will be reached at the deepest energetic levels so that all others will be raised ever higher into the light, simply for being in their midst, as if through osmosis."
